THE BLUE TRIUMPHS.

Captain Saunders Leads His Nine to Victory Over Phillips Exeter.

The great Andover-Exeter baseball game has been played and won; the nine of 1899 has been victorious over its two great rivals, Exeter and Lawrenceville and can well rest on its laurels.

Last Saturday was a perfect day for baseball and at 1.15 o'clock, the long train of eleven cars pulled out of the Andover station laden with enthusiastic supporters on their way to Exeter to see the blue triumph over the red.

Arriving at the field, Andover took the bleachers by first base and soon these were a mass of color, the light dresses of the ladies, the darker clothing of the men, and the blue and white flags of Andover, making a beautiful combination. The same may be said of the Exeter bleachers across the campus where the red was predominant. The New Hampshire team began to warm up early and were followed some time later by the Andover boys.

The game was called at 3.15 by Umpire Miah Murray with Andover in the field. Lanigan was back again at his old place at second, supplanting Wheeler, and Williams took Lanigan's position in right field.

Fully 5000 people were on hand to see the game, partisans of one side or the other, and many of them endeavored to rattle the visiting nine by their hoots and yells.

Although great rivalry exists between the schools, it was a friendly rivalry and both sides cheered the plucky or skillful plays of their opponents.

Captain Saunders of Andover pitched a fine game for his school although he was a little wild in the third inning after he had been struck on the leg by a swiftly batted ball by Alexander. The blow was sufficient to stretch him out for a few moments but he was soon able to play again. Exeter found him for four hits in this inning, however, and he gave two men bases on balls, the last one forcing in the first run for P. E. A. They got three more before the third man was out. Winslow steadied Saunders finely and threw to bases well. His two hits came, unfortunately, when they did not do much good. Matthews played his usual star game at short and made hits when they were wanted, besides running bases superbly. Littlefield, Lanigan and Davis played a good steady game. Lanigan made three hits, all timely. Barnwell made a beautiful catch over his right shoulder, while running backward in the fourth inning, of a fly from Clay's bat which looked good for three bases. The hit in the fifth brought in two runs, or would have had not Farnum been held at third. Umpire Murray saw the holding and sent him home however.

Farnum played an erratic game at third, making two good plays and also all four of Andover's errors, two of which were responsible for runs. Clay pitched a good game for Exeter, kept his head well in trying positions but was not as effective as Saunders. Baldwin and Alexander made the best batting record for Exeter, the former with three singles, the latter with two. Everyone of the New Hampshire team made errors with the exception of Clay, Healey and Alexander. Barbour at second base made four errors, three of them responsible for runs.

Exeter's Waterloo was the second inning when P. A. scored five runs on three hits and five errors. Matthews' hit with two men out and three men on bases was much needed at this time. Andover added two more in the third, one in the fourth, two in the fifth and one in the seventh, clinching the lead. Exeter got four more, one each in the fifth, sixth, seventh and ninth, but could not overcome their opponent's lead.

Phillips Students Celebrate.

As a fitting conclusion to a glorious victory at Exeter, the P. A. students had a rousing old time celebration Saturday evening, with the customary accompaniments of cheering, red-fire, music by the Andover band, speeches and a mammoth bonfire on the campus. Starting from "Chap's" at 9 o'clock with the band leading and the victorious nine accompanied by coach Stearns and other guests in a barge, the paraders moved up Main Street to Chapel Avenue, making the first call on Dr. Bancroft. At Prof. McCurdy's, both the Professor and Dr. Fuller spoke to the boys.

Many houses along the route were handsomely lighted and decorated. Prof. Newton and the Reed house were especially noticeable. The giddy "fem sexes" were not forgotten and about ten a visit was made to Abbot Academy. The fair ladies were in evidence at all the windows and showed their appreciation of Andover's victory by a generous display of Phillips banners. After numerous cheers and songs, the crowd sang "Good Night, Ladies," and marched to the Campus. There, the big bonfire was soon ablaze, and an Exeter flag consumed at the apex of the pile of wood.

More speeches followed by the team, Coach Stearns, Mr. Wheeler, an old Yale man, Kilpatrick and others. Mr. Stearns and Captain Saunders received a lion's share of the credit for the victory over Exeter.

While the celebration here was in progress, the track team arrived from Worcester and was greeted with great enthusiasm when it was known that they had won second place for Andover there with a very few men entered. At twelve o'clock, the students dispersed to their rooms, tired and happy.

Shot the Man-eater Dead.

The French explorer M. Edouard Poit, the author of the book "From the Cape to Lake Nyassa," is now publishing an account of his exploits as a lion and elephant hunter which the French papers are publishing conspicuously. The following is his story of a lion chase in Tschiramo:

"Two natives came to me sent by the chief of a neighboring village. They told me that a lion had carried away an old woman and that he was still prowling around the neighborhood. We set out immediately and after the march of four hours arrived at the village. Night was coming on and it was impossible to do anything in the darkness. The best plan was to wait for daylight. A little distance from this habitation there was another village where the natives were dancing to the music of tam-tams. At half past four in the morning I heard shrieks and cries in the little village and just as I got out with my gun in hand followed by my men a weeping woman threw herself at my feet wringing her hands and explaining that a lion had carried away her son.

"By torchlights we found our way to the other village and on inquiring we learned that the lion had carried away the boy just as he opened the door of the hut to fetch some firewood that was at the threshold. The cries uttered by the people in the village frightened the lion away and moreover it was impossible to find any trace of him with the torchlights. Daylight soon appeared. I told the natives not to come in any great crowd. So ten men only accompanied me in silence according to orders. As soon as there was sufficient light to follow the trail we went to the hut from which the child had been carried away.

"We found the trail behind the house which proved that the brute had gone around it. With the trail there were footmarks of the child. Evidently it had been seized by the upper part of the body. Then we found a few drops of blood. The animal passed through one of the streets—it may call them streets—of the village, leading toward the river going along with his burden in front of more than twenty natives. The inhabitants had not been aroused by the woman's cries until after the beast had passed. Still following the trail we reached the stream where the animal halted and left his prey beside him. This was proved by the presence of a little pool of blood. Then he crossed the river which was only one to deep passing obliquely almost descending the current for four or five metres then which line the stream.

"Before following the trail any further, we sent Tambarika to watch the outer edge of the thick bushes and to find if there were any traces of the animal having passed through. A well known whistle from him notified us that such was the case so we took to the clearing in order to get to him as quickly as possible. After running for a short distance through the tall grass we came upon a new pool of blood which showed where the beast had stopped again. Then we found ourselves in a little open plain still on the trail of the man-eater. After that we entered a wood where we discovered clots of blood and the belt of pearls that the little fellow had worn around his loins. After that we found part of his scanty clothing which was torn off by the lion. A pool of blood indicated where the brute began to tear up his victim.

"Finally on the opposite edge of the wood we passed into the high grass, where a terrible growl brought us to a sudden halt. There we waited for some time that the animal was there; but he was going to charge. We heard nothing more. I cocked my gun and kept within reach of my hand my six charges of buckshot cartridges. When all was ready I advanced in the grass with my hand upon the trigger watching closely and listening for the slightest sound. Ten metres before us we heard the rustling of the long grass and we saw the heads of it waving but nothing more. We continued to advance slowly. The right tree there was a tree. I made a sign to Kambarika who climbed it like a monkey in a few jumps. Soon he was in the tree's fork and on the watch. 'The child is here,' he said, 'but there is no lion.' Then turning to the right he shouted: 'Here he is! Come this way!'

"Guided by his gesture I ran to the right. Then I signalled to the natives to follow us and with a movement of my arms I made them understand that they were to watch the grass with my eyes. I sent Tambarika to tell them to make a noise so as to frighten the lion toward me. Then I placed myself in a little opening and remained motionless, watching the bunch of bushes from which I expected every minute to see the brute emerge. Kambarika in the tree whispered: 'He's going away. No he is coming back now. He stops and looks in the direction of the men. Now he's coming your way in a walk. Here he comes! Here he comes! Step back a little!'

"One may imagine the anxiety with which I listened to these words. Taking his advice I stepped back two paces. My men were behind me with their arms ready. 'Don't fire except in case of necessity,' said I. 'Don't be in a hurry,' said Tambarika. The tall grass moved forward like a wave and the lion came out at about eight metres from me walking slowly and occasionally looking behind him. At last he saw me. He stopped, showed his teeth, growled and advanced without changing his course. At the same moment he lashed his tail lowered his ears and seemed about to charge. Having followed him with my gun, I aimed at the nape of his neck and pulled the trigger. His legs bent as if they were rubber and he rolled over dead as a log.

"He was an old fellow of ordinary size and extremely thin. The child that he intended to devour was about 14 years old and must have been killed the very moment he was seized, because the felines never carry off struggling prey unless they are obliged to do so by surprise. We carried back on an improvised litter the bodies of the two actors in this nocturnal drama. That of the child showed deep wounds which had torn the neck and the right shoulder, and on one of his thighs the bone was laid bare. As for the body of the lion when it was brought to the village, carried by eight men the whole population attempted to rush upon it with old guns, bows and spears. I shouted that the first one to touch the carcass before it was skinned would make the acquaintance of my cane. All the population sat down in a circle and waited patiently until Tchigallo, aided by Rouzani and Melambiri, finished their work. Then they rushed upon the body, filled it with projectiles, perforated it with spear thrusts and dragged the remains through all the neighboring villages. Without feet and head it looked like an ox prepared by the butchers. Later, in the midst of the lamentations of the women, there was a funeral dance and more noise. The body of the lion was burned upon an enormous fire. When we were half way on the road to our camp, we could hear the noise of the tam-tams and see the red light of the fire, which proved to us that the natives were making sure that explanation was complete.—N. Y. Sun.

Phillips academy was founded at Andover on the twenty-first of April, 1787, by the gifts of Hon. Samuel Phillips and his brother, Hon. John Phillips, consisting of about 141 acres of land in Andover purchased for the purpose of about 200 acres of land in Jeffrey, N. H., together with the sum of one thousand six hundred and fourteen pounds. The deed of gift which is known as "The Constitution of Phillips Academy," from contemporary documents, largely under the influence of Samuel Phillips, Jr., and Elliphalet Pearson, two young men whose friendship in school and college, and whose sympathy in the religious and patriotic movements of the times made them mutually helpful in the project of founding a new institution of learning, and, as it proved, a new type of institution. Dr. Pearson became the first principal, and Judge Phillips fostered the school till his death in 1802 with assiduous devotion. ### It's Public Library.

The extent to which the great railroad systems of the United States invoke the aid of printer's ink in their laudable ambition to develop passenger business is something that rather astonishes the foreign transportation manager. Take the Boston & Maine Railroad, for instance, which is the most conspicuous in the country for effective advertising. The summer publications of that railroad now number no fewer than 16 different volumes, all but one of them illustrated, and making in themselves a veritable library of railroad literature. They cover in almost minute detail every one of the various "sections" reached by the Boston & Maine and its connections. No one need be at a loss to secure any desired information as to the various mountain, seashore, lake or country resorts, or the fishing or shooting regions of the territory. It takes time and skill to accurately collate all these essential facts and statistics, and it costs lots of money besides, but the educational and artistic result is something that the company may well feel proud of.

The latest addition to the Boston & Maine's "Picturesque New England" library is "The Valley of the Connecticut and Northern Vermont," descriptive of the wonderful summer region lying along the beautiful valley of the Connecticut river and continuing to Lake Champlain and Lake Memphremagog in the north. A copy of this book will be sent by the passenger department of the Boston & Maine Railroad, on receipt of two cents in stamps; as will also the indispensable "Summer Resorts and Tours," and the other descriptive publications (2 cents in stamps for each book), "All Along Shore," "Among the Mountains," "Lakes and Streams," "Southeast New Hampshire," "Merrimack and Valley," "Central Massachusetts," "Southwest New Hampshire," "Lake Sunapee," "The Monadnock Region," "Lake Memphremagog and About There," and "Fishing and Hunting."

Six cents in stamps will procure a copy of either "New England Lakes," "Rivers of New England," or "Mountains of New England," magnificent reproductions of original photographs just issued by the Boston & Maine Passenger Department. These are veritable editions de luxe in the way of railroad literature.

Jack Not Always the Victim.

A shipping master named Millett put a sailor aboard the British steamship Belvoir, just before she left her Brooklyn pier for Fernandina on Saturday. Millett had received an advance note from the agents of the ship for $15, the amount of the sailor's wages for one month. The note was payable after the ship sailed, provided, of course, that the sailor should be aboard. Feeling sure of his man, Millett paid him $12, his share of the advance money. The other $3, representing Jack's expenses for board and other things, the shipmaster retained. Jack's baggage was put aboard and he appeared to be ready for the voyage. A moment after he had got the money, however, he climbed over the ship's side and went running up the pier. Millett saw him and started after him. After leaving the pier, Jack ran into a saloon. Millett came in panting and saw Jack standing placidly up against the bar drinking a schooner of beer. A throng of longshoremen were doing likewise at Jack's expense. Millett said: "Come, man, hurry with your drinking; the ship is going to pull out in a moment."

Jack stared hard at Millett and said: "What ship are you talking about?" Millett asked Jack to quit fooling and come along. Jack looked indignant, declared that he was an honest British sailor, and had no recollection of having seen the shipping master before. Then he grew warm and said he suspected the Millett intended to "hang" him, but with the help of the honest laboring men present he hoped to prevent any such high-handed proceeding.

The longshoremen growed approval of Jack's sentiment. Millett began to grow nervous. Jack invited the bar-tenders to fill 'em up again for all hands. Millett saw there was not much hope of getting Jack to return to the ship, so he appealed to him to at least give him back the $12. Jack said that inasmuch as he had never seen the shipping master before, he did not see how it was possible for him to have any of the shipping master's money. The longshoremen growled again in chorus and moved toward the shipping master, who got out in a hurry. The honest sailors still sitting 'em up several hours later, and the longshoremen were swearing that they would see that nobody interfered with his rights.—N. Y. Sun.

BACKED UP THE BOYS.

LYNN, June 14.—There is a labor difficulty at the John B. Renton company heel and rand factory, and it was caused by three boys who asked for a raise in their pay. Herbert Cain, Thomas Divine and John McCloskey were employed there operating and tacking machines, and were each receiving $8 per week. They desired a raise to $9, and when it was refused they struck.

The firm engaged a man to take the place of one of the strikers yesterday, and as soon as he went to work the other employees on that floor and several on another floor, some 50 in all, left the shop. They claim that they intend to stand by the three boys and will not return until they are restored to their places.

MENUS FOR A WEEK.

MONDAY'S BREAKFAST.

Men of interior degree are not given to judging themselves.—Maeterlinck.

BREAKFAST.—Coffee. Curry of Eggs. Potato Cakes. Water Cress Salad. Rice Cakes. Stewed Rhubarb.

CURRY OF EGGS.—Slice two onions and fry them slowly in two tablespoonfuls of butter. When light brown, add one teaspoonful of curry powder, salt thoroughly. Stir in one pint of milk. Cover and simmer 15 minutes; wet one tablespoonful cornstarch with a little cold milk and stir in. Cook for five minutes and add six hard-boiled eggs cut in slices. Heat thoroughly, but do not boil, and serve with rice in a separate dish.

LUNCHEON FOR TUESDAY.

Be dreamed, indeed, as appetite is wont to dream. Of meats and drinks, nature's refreshment sweet. —Lamb.

LUNCHEON.—White Soup. Chicken Croquettes. Tomato Salad. New Potatoes. Radishes. Coffee Mousse. White Cake. Coffee.

CHICKEN CROQUETTES.—One cup of the white meat of boiled fowl packed in solid, then chopped fine and mashed till like fine powder. Add one-half level teaspoon salt, one-half saltspoon paprika or white pepper. Make one pint thick cream sauce with two level tablespoonfuls butter and two heaped tablespoonfuls cornstarch cooked together, diluted with one pint hot cream and stirred till very smooth and thick. Season with one-half teaspoon salt and one-half saltspoon pepper. Stir as much of the hot sauce into the chicken as it will take up and enable you to handle the mixture in shaping, remembering that the sauce will be much thicker when cold, and so the mixture may be quite soft. The remainder of the sauce may be thickened with more cream and used as a sauce for the croquettes or as thickening for the white soup. The meat varies greatly in its power to absorb the sauce, therefore it is impossible to give an exact amount, but if the sauce is thick a large portion may be used, and the croquettes will be all the more creamy for it. When cold, shape a tablespoonful of the mixture into a ball, roll it in a cylinder, roll in fine, dry bread crumbs, beaten egg diluted with water, then crumbs again, and fry one minute in deep, smoking hot fat.

WEDNESDAY'S DINNER AND TEA.

Would you have Christians sit down at table like dogs to their troughs, without remembering the Giver?—Lamb.

DINNER.—French Stew. Potato Croquettes. New Beets. Lettuce Salad. Pineapple. Coffee. Swiss Cheese.

SUPPER.—Pickled Russian Sardines. Cold Ham. Cress Sandwiches. Russian Tea.

FRENCH STEW.—Cut two pounds of veal into convenient pieces for serving. Put them in deep heavy kettle and cover with three pints boiling water. Heat a tablespoonful butter in saucepan and when hot add two tablespoonfuls each of finely minced carrot and onion; cook slowly for half an hour, then press the vegetables through sieve into the kettle with the meat; thicken with three tablespoonfuls of flour, then add salt, pepper and season with rounded teaspoonful of salt and a half teaspoonful white pepper and simmer gently for two hours.

FRESH PINEAPPLE AU NATUREL.—There are many ways of preparing pineapples for the table. One excellent way is to select a medium sized pineapple which has both crown and stem. Remove the stem and throw away, but after twisting out the crown keep it for future use on a low plate decorated with some of the pineapple skins. Serve from the fruit in tiny glass cups.

DINNER FOR THURSDAY.

We ought to stretch our legs and stretch our noses only to that which is possible.—Epictetus.

DINNER.—Vegetable Soup. Cold Lamb. Mint Sauce. New Carrots. Creamed Potatoes. Cress Salad. Potatoes au Gratin. Rhubarb. Pie. Cheese.

VEGETABLE SOUP.—The most delightful and economical vegetable soup is made from soup. The ingredients necessary are one pint of white turnips cut in cubes, one-half pint of carrot cubes, one pint of potato cubes, one pint of leeks (the small ones), one large onion, one clove of garlic, one eschallot, one tablespoonful of salt, three tablespoonfuls of butter, one eschallot, one clove of garlic, one spoonful of pepper, two quarts of water. Cut the onions fine and soak them slowly with the butter for half an hour, then add the leeks, onion and carrot and cook half an hour longer. At the end of this time add the turnips, potatoes and seasoning and cook an hour. You may omit the onion and carrot, and add a teaspoonful ten minutes before serving. The soup is improved if some bones of trimmings of meat be added, one delicious cream potage being made by rubbing a portion of this soup through a puree sieve and adding milk and a little salt to it. It should just come to the boiling point and be served with fried or toasted bread.

FRIDAY'S BREAKFAST AND DINNER

Who shall set the limit to the influence of a human being?—Emerson.

BREAKFAST.—Broiled Smoked Sturgeon. Fried Potatoes. Water Cress. Elbow Cakes. Coffee.

DINNER.—Cream of Rice Soup. Baked Fish. New String Beans. Creamed Potatoes. Lettuce Salad. Orange Jelly.

BAKED FISH.—Bluefish, cod or haddock is the best fish to bake. Clean the fish and make a stuffing as follows: Soak stale bread in cold water for 20 minutes. Press dry and season with one egg, one tablespoonful melted butter and a small quantity of sage or the prepared poultry dressing or a little onion juice, as preferred. When the stuffing has been thoroughly mixed, lay the fish and sew up with needle and thread. Flour the fish well and salt it. Lay a few thin slices of butter into the bottom of the baking dish, also a few slices on top of the fish. Paste it often with the liquor which cooks out of it, adding a little water if there is not enough. Allow 15 minutes to the pound for baking fish. Have a moderate oven, as, if very hot, it will not cook well in the middle.

MENUS FOR SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

A man should choose not every pleasure, but the pleasure which leads to goodness.—Epictetus.

SATURDAY'S BREAKFAST.—Boiled Rice. Fish Balls. Stewed Potatoes. Water Cress. Coffee.

SUNDAY'S DINNER.—Tomato Soup. Broiled Spring Chicken. Cold Ham. New Carrots. Drawn Butter Sauce. Strawberries. Cream.

SUPPER.—Broiled Sardines on Toast. Lettuce Sandwiches. Tea.

HYGIENIC USE OF POTATOES.—The potato, a few years ago extolled to heaven and served three times a day 365 days a year, then with the swing of the pendulum denounced by food reformers and faddists as unworthy its place on a civilized table, has at last found its sphere in the economy of scientific nutrition. After repeated experiments the United States department of agriculture has issued a bulletin which agrees exactly with Sir Henry Thompson's estimate of the real value of the American potato. This shows that the potato is essentially a starchy food, but containing much less proteid matter than rice, requires additions of nitrogenous and fatty elements to furnish a one-sided, badly balanced diet, but combined with meat, eggs or fish—essentially nitrogenous foods—it is a valuable addition to our food supply. Although the scientific principle that one food must supply the deficiency of another is not recognized as a principle by the sturdy Irish peasant, he intuitively complements the tuber with liberal portions of buttermilk or some of the products of his dairy, and so the potato, thus giving a well-balanced diet, conducive to health and vigor.

FOR YOUR SCRAP BOOK.

Choice Recipes From Many Sources and of Acknowledged Worth.

BAKED CODFISH.

One and one-half pounds of salt codfish, one quart of potatoes, one-half pint of milk, one tablespoonful butter. Pick the codfish to pieces, rejecting bones and skin, and soak it for two hours in cold water. Drain it; cover it with boiling water, and stand it for 15 minutes on the back part of the stove, where it will not boil. Drain and press out all the water; mix it with the potatoes, which have been boiled (without salt) and mashed. Moisten the whole with the warmed milk and melted butter; press into a baking dish, sprinkle lightly with buttered bread-crumbs, dust with pepper and put into a hot oven to brown. Serve with egg sauce: Put one tablespoonful of butter in a frying pan, and when it is melted add a level tablespoonful of flour; mix, and pour in gradually half a pint of cold water, stirring continually until it boils. Take it from the fire; add pepper and salt to taste, and a hard-boiled egg chopped fine.

TAPIOCA PUDDING.

Wash one cupful of tapioca, cover it with two cupfuls of milk, and let work for several hours. Add one-half of a teaspoonful of salt and one quart of milk, and cook in a double boiler until the grains of tapioca look clear. Take from the fire, add two cupfuls more of milk. Beat together four eggs and one cupful of sugar. Stir this into the pudding, flavor with vanilla or lemon, and bake for half an hour in a buttered dish. Or if you use the kind of tapioca which requires no soaking and very little cooking, the following recipe is very good: One-half of a cupful of tapioca; one cupful of sugar, a pinch of salt; mix and stir into one quart of milk, then add three beaten eggs, one tablespoonful of melted butter, and flavor as desired; mix well and bake in an oven slowly until brown. Serve hot with cream.

ASPARAGUS.

Asparagus, besides boiling, may be cooked in the oven. Boil a bunch of asparagus for twelve minutes. Lay it in a baking dish, moisten it with half a cup of the water in which it was boiled. Grate Parmesan cheese over it, season it well with salt and pepper, sprinkle a tablespoonful of fresh bread crumbs over the top with a tablespoonful of butter cut in bits, and bake in a moderately hot oven for fifteen minutes. Cold boiled asparagus is very nice served as a salad with a French dressing or with the following sauce: Pound the yolk of a hard-boiled egg to a paste, add two teaspoonfuls of good vinegar, a saltspoonful of salt, and half as much pepper, and a small onion minced fine. Toss all together thoroughly and pour over the cold asparagus.

CRULLERS.

One cup sugar, one tablespoonful butter, two eggs, one cup rich, sweet milk, three cups flour mixed with two teaspoonfuls baking powder and one teaspoon salt. Roll like doughnuts, cut and fry in very hot lard.

A COMMON-SENSE MENU.

(By Mrs. Emma G. Jefferson.)

BREAKFAST.—Apples and Bananas. Tripe Fried in Meal. Mashed Potatoes. Parker House Rolls. Apple Sauce. Cereal with Cream and Sugar. Coffee.

DINNER.—Clam Chowder. Baked Halibut with Drawn Butter Sauce. Baked Potatoes. Boiled Beets. Plum Jelly. Spanish Cream. Wafers.

SUPPER.—Scalloped Fish and Potato. Escalates. Beet Salad. Coffee Cake.

TRIPE FRIED IN INDIAN MEAL.

Use pickled tripe. Wipe clean and dry. Cut in pieces for serving, and dip both sides in Indian meal. Have a quarter of an inch of hot fat in frying pan and lay in two or three pieces at a time and brown crisp on both sides.

PARKER HOUSE ROLLS.

Heat one pint of new milk and one tablespoon (heaped) of lard together till it boils. Pour into mixing bowl and add two teaspoonfuls salt and one tablespoonful sugar. When milk warm add one-half compressed yeast cake dissolved in little cold water and mix with the best bread flour till stiff enough to handle. Cover tightly and keep warm three or four hours till light. Take out on board and roll out about half an inch thick. (Do not knead them only enough to get into shape to roll.) Cut out in round shapes and fold over one half and place in pan for baking. Wet over the tops with melted butter and cover the pan with a paper and keep warm for one or two hours more till very light, and bake same as bread.

CLAM CHOWDER.

One pint of clams out of the shell, six potatoes peeled and sliced, three or four slices of thin salt pork. Fry the pork in a frying pan till all the fat is melted, then add the sliced onion and heat (do not brown) in the pork fat. Turn this into the chowder kettle and add the potatoes, with one quart of hot water. Salt and boil gently for fifteen minutes. While this is boiling have the clams draining through a strainer. Take each clam separately to remove the soft part, putting the head and attached part into the chopping bowl. Chop these fine and add to the cooking potatoes and onions. Also add the liquor which has drained from the clams. Have one quart (or nearly that) of milk heating and add to the clams and potatoes just before serving. Season with salt and pepper. Dip crackers in the chowder and pack in a small vegetable dish and serve with the chowder.

BAKED HALIBUT.

Have the halibut sliced thick. Wash and wrap in a clean cloth to dry off. Lay some thin slices of salt pork in bottom of baking pan and lay on the slices of halibut. Sprinkle with salt and butter and lay on other slices of fish on top of these and sprinkle with salt and butter. Bake about one hour in a hot oven, basting often, adding a very little water if there is not enough liquor bakes out of the fish. Serve with drawn butter sauce.

SPANISH CREAM.

One and one-half pints of milk, four even tablespoonfuls of gelatine dissolved in little cold water and heated to boiling in the milk. Add the yolks of three eggs beaten with one-half cup sugar. Cook in double boiler till it thickens. Then remove from the fire and when cool add the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs, stirring them in thoroughly. Flour and pour in a mould. It will require three or four hours to harden in cold weather, in warm weather must be hardened on ice.

COFFEE CAKE.

One egg, one cup of brown sugar, one cup butter, one cup of molasses, one cup of cold strong coffee, one pound of chopped seedless or seeded raisins, one teaspoonful clove, one-half nutmeg grated, one teaspoonful cinnamon, one teaspoon soda and flour to mix quite stiff. Bake in moderate oven about one hour.

Paying Town Bills.

The town auditing is still in a very unsatisfactory condition in the minds of many who have business with the different town departments.

While the time and place of meeting of the auditors has come to be pretty well known, the same cannot be said of the different departments. A bill to be paid must be audited; to be audited it must be approved by the department which contracted it. Obviously the matter of first importance is to get the bills into the hands of the right department officials. The board of public works may be found in all business hours, and some other departments have regular days for meeting, but many other departments can be reached only as one happens to meet some official connected.

There seems to be no time when one may be sure of reaching the Selectmen, and the whole situation is one that demands a thorough overhauling so that it may be put upon a business-like basis. A member of the board of selectmen is quoted as expressing the feeling that it is a difficult thing to adjust, but it does not seem at all so to us. There may be obstacles that we cannot see, in the way of some such schedule as the following, but we venture to suggest a rule to govern the payment of town bills that would seem to need very little change to meet every requirement of the case.

TOWN OF ANDOVER.

Regular Dept. Meetings at Town House.

Board of Public Works,
First Saturday in the month.
School Committee,
Last Monday in the month.
Selectmen,
Last Friday in the month.
Overseers of the Poor,
Last Friday in the month.
Highway Department,
Last Saturday in the month.
Memorial Hall Library Trustees,
Second Tuesday in the month.
Fire Department,
Last Thursday in the month.

Notice.
All accounts against the town of Andover must be presented to the department contracting the same on or before the time of meeting as published above. Bills not presented at such times will not be paid until the following month.

This schedule is submitted only as a suggestion. If it was enforced by both parties to it, the officials on the one hand being very particular to meet at the appointed time, and the public on the other hand, being compelled to present their accounts when called for, the question would soon settle itself very satisfactorily.

The present difficulty seems to be that the public has got the impression that the auditors' duty is to approve bills only at the public's request, while the fact is that the auditors can approve bills only at the request of, and after they have been endorsed by, the departments contracting the account. If the public is to be aided and not discommoded, there should be reform at once in this quarter.

Editorial Cinders.

The two Lawrence wires that used to serve the half dozen telephone users in Andover, hardly seem to piece out into very good service for the present sixty odd subscribers. Manager Pond promises more wires in a short time, so that the "line is busy" shall not be heard quite so often when an Andover user calls for Lawrence.

Welcome to the new West Church pastor. He comes into a rich heritage of church work, and Christian associations that has been made richer, each succeeding ministry, because of the splendid work of the men who have served as pastors for the past three quarters of a century. The whole town extends the hand of fellowship.

The Townsman congratulates the great crop of June brides and grooms. May their days of honeymoon not end until golden anniversaries have brought their benedictions upon the wedding days that have been so plentiful the past week.

No one can complain that the streets have been too much sprinkled the past week or two. Whew but weren't they dusty some of those dry days!

New Trustees of Academy and Seminary.

Mr. George P. Knapp, for many years in charge of the Gardner-Brewer estate of Boston, a graduate of Phillips Andover and of Amherst, has been chosen a Trustee of the Academy, succeeding Hon. Rowland Hazard, deceased. James Hardy Ropes, asst. Professor of Harvard, a graduate of the Academy and the Seminary and of Harvard has been elected Trustee in succession to his kinsman, Hon. Joseph S. Ropes, resigned.

NEW WEST CHURCH PASTOR

Rev. George A. Andrews Ordained and Installed Last Wednesday

The services of ordination and installation of Rev. George A. Andrews, as pastor of the West Parish church were held at that edifice Wednesday. Mr. Andrews was graduated from the Andover Theological seminary last week and had accepted a unanimous call to the West Parish church, previously. This church has been without a pastor since Rev. Robert A. McFadden went to Chelsea last year.

The ecclesiastical council met and organized at 10.30 o'clock in the forenoon with the following churches and individuals represented:

Andover, South, Free, Ballardvale, Seminary; Methuen; Tewksbury; Lawrence, Lawrence Street, South, Riverside, Trinity, United; South Framingham, Grace; Chelsea, Central; Concord Junction, Union; Worcester, Greendale People's; Individuals, Rev. Prof. Egbert C. Smyth, D. D., Rev. D. Augustine Newton, Rev. William J. Batt, Rev. George C. Andrews, Rev. Prof. John Wesley Churchill, D. D., Rev. Edward W. Fiske, Rev. Clark Carter, Rev. F. W. Greene, William J. Long, Ph. D., Rev. W. E. Wolcott of the Lawrence Street Church, Lawrence, was chosen moderator and Rev. H. G. Mank, of the United Church, Lawrence, as scribe.

The council was led in prayer by the moderator. Roll call followed and the records of the church and society were read, as was also Mr. Andrews' letter of acceptance. The action of the church was approved.

Mr. Andrews' personal letter of membership from the Seminary church and certificate of licensure from the Andover Association was next brought up. A somewhat thorough examination of the candidate in a very friendly spirit followed Mr. Andrews' paper.

The council then voted to be by itself and at roll call the members expressed the most hearty and unanimous approval of the Examination. It was then voted to proceed with the ordination and installation. Rev. Clark Carter and Rev. F. W. Green were appointed to confer with the pastor elect to arrange for the ordination and installation services.

Rev. W. J. Batt, Chaplain of the Concord reformatory where Mr. Andrews has been working for the past two years, presented resolutions of good will to the latter from the Christian Endeavor society of the Concord reformatory.

At noon the ladies of the society served a beautiful dinner in the lower grange hall.

The afternoon exercises began at 2.30 o'clock and were as follows:

Reading of the Minutes.

Reception to the Class of Punctured '99.

The reception to the Senior class of Punctured under the auspices of the Alumni Association will take place in Punctured Hall, Friday evening, June 23, from 8 to 11.30 o'clock.

There will be a social hour until 9.15, and it is to be hoped that Punctured's children of every age will improve this opportunity of meeting old friends and making new ones. After the social hour those who wish to dance can do so to music furnished by the Columbian orchestra. Refreshments will be served at the usual price by Caterer Lane, and lemonade will be furnished free during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Goldsmith, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Baldwin and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Guttererson are the reception committee. The matrons are to be Mrs. Arthur Bliss, Miss M. E. Dern and Miss Jean S. Pond.

The usual number of tickets has been sent to all members of the association whose dues have been paid. Those who are not members of the association, but who wish to attend the reception, may obtain tickets at fifty cents apiece from President M. E. Guttererson or Treasurer H. H. P. Wright.

Anniversary Exercises at Abbot.

June 18: Baccalaureate sermon to senior class at 10.30 a. m., in the South Church, by Rev. Cyrus Richardson of Nashua, N. H.

June 19: Tree planting exercises and lawn party in the afternoon; Draper reading in the evening.

June 29: At 9.30 a. m., exercises by senior class in Abbot Hall.
At 10.45 a. m., Anniversary Address in South Church, by Prof. Ryder of the Andover Theological Seminary, followed by the presenting of diplomas.

At 2.30, Meeting of Alumnae Association.

Change of Time.

The L. L. & H. street railroad will commence to run cars to Andover on fifteen minute time in the afternoon and evening, commencing the first of next week, probably Tuesday. The cars will run on the same time in the forenoon, leaving the top of the Hill at a quarter of and a quarter past the hour. Commencing at 12.15 o'clock, the cars will leave the top of the Hill every fifteen minutes, meeting at the Rubber shop, the Ink factory, the B. & M. depot, South Lawrence, and the Transfer station. Andover people will appreciate the improvement in service.

Only Slightly Injured.

The sensational story of serious injury to G. F. Swift and Mrs. W. S. Knapp, while driving last Sunday, caused a good deal of anxiety among their friends, but it is pleasant to record that aside from the shock and slight bruises, neither suffered injury.

MANY JUNE WEDDINGS

A Week of Cupid's Festivities. Many Couples United.

SHIPMAN-RIPLEY.

The marriage of Mary Appleton Ripley, daughter of Col. George Ripley, of Central street, to Rev. Frank R. Shipman, pastor of the old South church, was solemnized at the latter edifice Thursday afternoon at half past four o'clock. The church was beautifully decorated with a profusion of palms and peonies. On the platform of the auditorium palms, peonies and greens of various natures were banded in a compact mass, making a beautiful background for the bridal party. A wedding bell of peonies was suspended over the pulpit. The vestibule of the church and stairs leading down to the vestry were also profusely decorated with palms and flowers.

From half past three until half past four John Bachelder, organist at Christ church, gave an organ recital, and long before the time for the ceremony the large auditorium was crowded with the immense gathering of relatives, invited guests and friends of the contracting parties.

Shortly after the time set for the wedding, the bridal party entered the church from the vestry and advanced down the aisle to the strains of a beautiful wedding march played by Mr. Bachelder. The bride was met at the altar by the groom.

Rev. Charles H. Cutler, of Bangor, Me., brother-in-law of the bride, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Frederick A. Wilson, of the Free church. The beautiful Episcopal service was used and the bride was given away by her father.

She was dressed in a gown of chiffon over white satin and wore a tulle veil. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Two little nieces of the bride, Misses Frances and Elizabeth Cutler, acted as the maids of honor. They wore pink organdie and carried baskets of sweet peas. The best man was Arthur L. Shipman, brother of the groom.

The ushers were Harry R. Shipman, of Hartford, Conn., Alfred L. Ripley, G. R. Ripley and P. F. Ripley, brothers of the bride; John C. Bridgman, of Wilkes Barre, Penn.; Dr. C. R. H. Vose of Boston; Howard Wright, Percival E. True and John V. Holt of Andover.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Central street. Rev. and Mrs. Shipman will be at home in July at Sunset Lodge, the former residence of the late Miss McKee, at 20 Abbot street.

GOFF-FARNUM.

The wedding of Fred Berry Goff, of this place, to Miss Laura Fulton Farnum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Holt Farnum, of North Andover, was solemnized at the bride's home, Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

Rev. Frederick A. Wilson of the Free church performed the ceremony. The couple were unattended.

The bride wore a white silk gown, trimmed with applique and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and maiden hair ferns. Beautiful clusters of roses and ferns were used in the house decoration. Many guests from Andover, North Andover and other places were present to witness the ceremony.

The bride and groom entered the parlor to the strains of a wedding march played by Mrs. F. A. Wilson, of this place. Following the ceremony was a reception and supper. Mr. and Mrs. Goff left on the evening train for a short wedding trip and on their return will reside on High street, Andover.

HART-HASTINGS.

A pretty June wedding was that of Miss Ethel Hastings, of Andover to John Goddard Hart, an instructor at Harvard College, which took place Tuesday afternoon at half past four o'clock.

Rev. Frederic Palmer performed the impressive ceremony which made the couple man and wife at Hildensfield, Fort St. Street, the beautiful residence of Miss Lucy Nesmith, whose niece Miss Hastings is.

The Columbian orchestra, stationed in an adjoining room to that in which the ceremony was performed, played during the wedding and the reception and supper which followed. Many guests were present from Lowell, North Andover and Andover.

After an extended trip, Mr. and Mrs. Hart will reside at Cambridge.

Postmaster Bliss Gets Increase in Salary.

The salary of the postmaster at Andover has been increased from $2300 to $2400 a year, to take effect July 1. The announcement was made yesterday.

At the South church, Andover, June 15th, 1899, by Rev. Charles H. Cutler and Rev. Frederick A. Wilson, Rev. Frank R. Shipman and Miss Mary A. Ripley.

In North Andover at the residence of Benj. Holt Farnum, June 15th, 1899, by Rev. Frederick A. Wilson, Frederick Berry Goff and Miss Laura Fulton Farnum.

CHILDRENS' OWN DAY

Church Festivals at Local Churches Last Sunday.

Children's day services were held at the various churches in town last Sunday and special addresses to the youth of the various congregations were delivered during the day.

At the South Church, six infants were baptised by Rev. F. R. Shipman and in the afternoon at 5 o'clock a children's praise service was held. The program follows:

Organ Voluntary.
Processional, Children's Hosanna.
Prayer.
Chant, Psalm C.
Scripture Reading, Matt. 18: 1-4, 10-14.
Hymn, The King of Love,

Offeratory.
Address.
Evening Song.
Distribution of Plants.
Benediction.

A concert was held at the Scotland district School house during the afternoon.

The morning service at the Free church was especially for the children. Two infants were baptised by Rev. Mr. Wilson and bibles were presented to the following children who were baptised seven years ago: Clarence Wilbur Farnum, Howard Warren Bailey, Charlotte Dick, Marion Cole, Isabella Margaret Blamire and Frances May Peters. The choir rendered the anthem "The Lord is my Shepherd."

At 5.30 o'clock in the afternoon the Sunday school held its annual children's day concert with the following program interspersed with singing by school and congregation:

Organ Voluntary.
Responsive Reading.
Prayer.
Recitation, "Sweet Summer Day."
Responsive Reading.
Recitation, "One Little Star."

Three Girls from Primary Class.

The second hearing on the petition of the Andover and Tewksbury Street Railway Company for a location of tracks, was held at the town house last Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This time the company asked for a location of tracks down Central and School Streets to Railroad and so on, as at the previous hearing there was such objection to the use of Essex Street.

It appears now that residents of the Hill and others in the vicinity of the later proposed route have much objection to the tracks being laid as above stated. The Hill people sent a petition to the selectmen with thirty-two signers, mostly prominent townspeople, in effect that in case the Board of Selectmen should allow the Electric Company to lay tracks in town that the cars be required to go directly by the B. & M. R. R. station and that they be not allowed to go no nearer the B. & M. station than the junction of School and Railroad Streets as now proposed.

Dr. Bancroft, Abram Marland, H. H. Tyne and many others spoke in favor of the Essex Street route, advancing the plea that business men could be well enough accommodated by the use of Brook, Pearson or School Streets for their teaming. They said Brook Street was a much easier grade to climb than Essex and was already used to considerable extent. The remonstrants to the School Street route also objected strenuously to the short walk from School Street to the depot.

As the selectmen have already practically assured the business men that the road should not go down Essex Street under any consideration they now seem to be in somewhat of a quandary as to where it shall be located. They are "between the devil and the deep sea" as it were.

There seems to be a sentiment in favor of the road in Andover, and doubtless the selectmen will grant some route after careful deliberation and investigation of the relative merits of various sites. The width of roads and bridges is a factor which must also be, and is being, taken into consideration.

Probably no other hearing will be required.

Rev. George A. Andrews will preach his first sermon as pastor of the West Parish Church Sunday morning.

The Grange met at the hall, West Parish, Tuesday evening and worked the third and fourth degrees on a class of twelve. The third degree was worked by the degree staff, and the fourth by the officers of the Grange. Deputy Stevens of Acton inspected the Grange and complimented them on their degree work. Remarks were made by Deputy Fuller of North Andover, and Master of the Essex County Pomona Grange George Crosby of Tewksbury. Many visitors were present from North Andover and Tewksbury. About 200 people sat down to a fine spread during the evening.

Andover Guild Concert.

John Bagholder has arranged a chamber concert for Thursday evening, June 22, at 7:30, to be given in the November Club house. The artists assisting are George Copeland of Boston, piano, T. Handasyd Cabat of Boston, violoncello, and Master Harry Helliwig, soprano soloist at Church of the Advent. The proceeds of the concert above expenses will be devoted to the Boys' Summer School so successfully carried on by Mr. Johnson last year.

The work for the coming summer is to be considerably amplified and to carry it on, funds are necessary. Let us give them a full bill.

Following is the concert program:

Introduction and Polonaise for piano and violoncello, Chopin
Soli for piano, Morning, Grieg
Scherzo, Mendelssohn
Soli for Violoncello, Air, Bach
Moment Musical, Schubert
Widmung, Wagner
Soprano Solo, Selected
Piano Solo, Polonaise in A major (Military), Chopin

The U. S. Bunting cricket team of Lowell will compete with the Andover cricket eleven on the Abbott Village grounds, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Following is the make up of the Andover team: Haddon, Brewster, Angus, H. Saunders, A. R. Saunders, Rhodes, Sullivan, Poland, Robb, McCarthy and Matthews. Reserves, McDermott and Callum.

Worcester Track Meet.

The fourteenth annual meet of the New England Interscholastic A. A. was held at Worcester last Saturday, and Andover unexpectedly won second place with an entry of only a dozen or so men. Worcester Academy easily took first place, with 60 points, while P. A. came 20 points.

Tasker Howard won first place in high hurdles with Hasbrouck second, and the former won second in the low hurdles. The work of the Andover men was the surprise of the meet, as the P. A. men who competed only for experience and the Exeter game kept several of the good athletes away from Worcester.

Andover was a first, six seconds and three thirds. Among those who competed were W. A. Schick, W. S. Cross, D. A. Crawford, H. F. Farnum, Tasker Howard, G. A. Hasbrouck, W. A. Burbank, W. B. Jordan and Sol Metzger.

P. A. Notes.

The annual tennis tournament with Phillips Exeter was held at that place last Wednesday afternoon. Russell represented Andover in the singles and Russell and Stebbins in the doubles. The Exeter representatives were Fitz and Fitz and Benham. Andover won the doubles 6-2, 6-4, 6-1, and in the singles Russell got the first two, 6-0, 6-1, and lost the third, 5-7. Rain interfered with the completion of the tournament as the best three out of five games are necessary to win the singles. The final games will be played between Russell and Fitz tomorrow at Exeter. Russell will have to win one game only to get the victory over Exeter.

It is reported that "Jim" Rodgers, an old Andover and Yale football captain, who while here at school was called "the silent man," has been secured for a permanent coach of the football team next fall. Rodgers is a worker and will make the candidates put forth their best efforts in order to make the eleven.

Burnside Winslow '00, of Philadelphia Penn., was elected baseball captain for next year at a meeting of the team Tuesday noon. Winslow is a fine catcher and steady player and ought to make a good leader of the baseball squad, with such efficient assistance as he will receive from Coach Stearns. "Burnie" has had some experience behind the bat previous to that acquired in Andover.

D. S. Crawford '00, was elected captain of the '00 track team at a meeting held last Monday afternoon. He will have good material from which to evolve a winning team next year.

Dr. Bancroft was invited to attend the ceremonies connected with the presentation of a statue of Benjamin Franklin to the city of Philadelphia. June 14, but could not accept.

No one, who has the best interest of the youth of our community at heart, will hesitate for a moment to give their enthusiastic support to the efforts of our school teachers to restrain their scholars from using profane language. Miss Putnam in her letter, which she has sent to the parents, very clearly states the facts in the case, and she certainly should have the hearty co-operation of the parents in stamping out this giant evil.

Children's day was observed in both of the churches of the village last Sunday. The weather was all that could be desired, and there were large audiences at all the services. Concerts were held in the evening in both churches which were very helpful and inspiring. The churches were very prettily decorated with flowers, ferns, etc., and presented a very pleasing effect. They were the most successful Children's day services ever held in the village.

THEY HAD HEARD OF EACH OTHER.

There was a moment's silence after the introduction. Womanlike each was mentally "sizing the other up." Then one spoke:

"My husband frequently speaks of you," she said.

"Indeed," returned the other. "My husband thinks you are wonderfully clever."

"Really, why that's the way my husband talks about you. He told me how you reshaped and recovered your parson, and so saved $2."

"Parson?" Why I never touched it until my husband had harped all one day on your cleverness in upholstering and relining a preambulator at a saving of $10."

"Nonsense! The thing that made me do that was the way my husband talked about that parson. Then he got me to trim last year's hat because you were working over an old dress."

"But I never started to do that until my husband had told me five times about your hat. I wasn't going to admit that you could be any more economical than I am."

"Why really I heard of that dress 24 hours before I touched the hat."

"Impossible!" she then stopped and her eyes began to flash. "I believe our husbands," she began again.

"I believe they have," chimed in the other, "becoming excited also."

"It's a wicked shame."

"An outrage. They've just tricked us, that's all."

"It was a regular plot. And to think how he made me work. I'll get a new dress today."

"And a new hat."

At the meeting of Essex colony, U. O. P. W., Monday evening, James Lane resigned as governor. At the next meeting of the colony, an election of governor and a collector to fill the vacant places will take place.

Delegations from both Black Prince and Quindaro lodges, Knights of Pythias will go to Methuen next Sunday morning to attend service at the Universalist church with Kearsarge lodge of that town. They will meet at the lodge room of the latter at 10 o'clock.

St. Elizabeth Guild of St. Thomas church will hold a lawn party on the grounds adjoining the church next Wednesday evening. The lawn will be brilliantly lighted with Japanese lanterns and there will be a variety of attractions. An orchestra will furnish music.

Henry W. Vogel has bought out the shipping business which was for years conducted by Edward Wood. Mr. Vogel is thoroughly familiar with the business, having managed it for many years for Mr. Wood. Mr. Vogel is well known and highly respected in this city and his friends wish him success.

Mrs. Alice E. Bower and son, Arthur, returned Saturday from a two years' stay in England. They will visit Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bower of Chase street, Methuen. The visitors were accompanied by Mrs. Roberts and Miss Helen Bower, who will visit W. A. Bower of Ayer.

Johnnie Higgins, about six years of age and residing on Elm street while playing around a cesspool at the corner of Elm and Lawrence streets Monday afternoon fell into the cesspool. He and his companions had lifted an iron grate. The boy was pulled out by a man who was passing, and was apparently none the worse for his fall.

At the meeting of Quindaro lodge, Knights of Pythias the invitation from Kearsarge lodge of Methuen to accompany the latter to church next Sunday morning was accepted. The members will meet at the Methuen lodge hall at 10 o'clock on that morning and proceed to the Universalist church where Rev. W. E. Gaskin, the pastor will preach an appropriate sermon.

A GOOD PLACE.

The fifth annual outdoor meet of the Essex County Interscholastic association was held at Kenosha trotting park, Haverhill, Saturday afternoon and was won by Newburyport high school, her athletes rolling up a total of 39 1/2 points. The other competing schools ranked as follows: Salem, 37 points; Haverhill 16; Lawrence 13 1/2; Danvers 6; and Dunbar academy. Perfect weather, a fine track and a large delegation of students to speed the boys on combined to arrange a spirited competition in each event and at the close of the events eight new records had been placed on the association calendar. Of the eight, Goodhue of Salem made 3 and Haigh of the local team 1.

BIG LAND DEAL.

Deeds were recorded at the local registry of deeds Tuesday in the partition of the Saunders-Pingree estate. By this transaction over ten acres of valuable land in the residential portion of the city is opened for building.

Some of the land lies across the Spicket river on Bruce, Saunders, Park, Avon, Fitz and Erving streets. More of the land is situated on Short, Maple, Chestnut, Lawrence and Cantillon streets and Marlboro avenue.

There are 17 lots in all and the division is equal between the various owners. David Pingree, Ann Maria Wheatland of Salem and Anna P. Peabody of Boston, who owned the property jointly with Charles G. Saunders consented to the partition.

While the land has been owned jointly, although there were many chances to sell, no agreement could be reached and the land has remained unused for many years. It will without doubt be put on the market at once. It is said that the land is now worth 20 cents a foot.

SURPRISED BY FRIENDS.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Conville of White street residents of this city for upwards of 20 years were pleasantly surprised at their home Saturday night by a party of friends. A general good time was enjoyed. The old couple are soon to return to the old country. Before their departure however many of their old time friends and neighbors took advantage of the opportunity of wishing them God-speed on their journey and this was the occasion of the party.

TO APPEAR JUNE 20.

City Solicitor Kane went to Salem Monday and filed the papers in the Hayes-Donahue case with Clerk George of the superior court, petitioning for a writ of mandamus, to compel Supt. Hannon to re-instate the veterans in the street department in accordance with the law.

Mr. Kane went to Boston Tuesday and made a motion before Judge Holmes that an order of notice be served on Supt. Hannon. The motion was granted and Mr. Kane secured the papers at Salem. Notice will be served on Mr. Hannon, citing him to appear before the supreme judicial court at Boston on Tuesday June 20, to show cause, if any he has, why a writ of mandamus should not be submitted compelling him to reinstate the veterans.

BAPTIST MINISTERS MEET.

The Merrimack River Baptist Ministers' conference met in the Second Baptist church Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The program of the morning exercises was as follows: "The Lord's Supper a Showing Forth," Rev. Frank Parker of Plaistow, N. H., sermon, "Herodism in the Christian Ministry," Rev. Bowley Green of Lowell; review of Dr. A. T. Pierson's book "In Christ Jesus," Rev. Asa R. Dilts, Lowell.

Dinner was partaken of after adjournment at Whitledge's on Haverhill street. The following were present: Rev. R. G. Farley and Rev. F. W. Paderford, from Haverhill; Rev. Isaac Lefleur, Rev. A. R. Dilts, Rev. Bowley Green and Rev. T. S. Sacer, Jr., of Lowell; Rev. J. H. Parshley, Rev. C. L. Charron, Rev. E. A. Whittier and Rev. E. P. Tuller of Lawrence, Rev. and Mrs. D. C. Bixby and Rev. Mr. Williams of East Haverhill; Rev. Nathan Bailey of Methuen, Rev. F. N. Kline of Andover, Rev. C. H. Ellis of Chelmsford, Rev. E. E. Skates of Billerica, Rev. H. A. Cornell of Merrimack and Rev. Frank Parker of Plaistow, N. H.

MORNING HEADACHE.

A general feeling of malaise in the morning, accompanied by more or less headache, is well known to most of us. The expression "I've got a head on me this morning," well defines the symptoms which are almost invariably due to retention in the system of a small amount of the uric acid and allied products formed during the hours of sleep and not properly excreted. It is the forerunner of a gouty or rheumatic attack.

Tartaric acid is just the remedy for this condition. Two tablets in a goblet of water, not iced will clear the head, start up the action of the kidneys, and freshen one up wonderfully. The dose should be taken before breakfast.

Swift's Specific.

Some years ago I was inoculated with poison by a nurse who infected my babe with blood taint. I was covered with sores and ulcers from head to foot, and in my great extremity I prayed to die. Several prominent physicians treated me, but all to no purpose. The mercury and potash which they gave me seemed to add fuel to the awful flame which was devouring me. I was advised by friends who had seen wonderful cures made by it, to try Swift's Specific. I improved from the start, as the medicine seemed to go direct to the cause of the trouble and force the poison out. Twenty bottles cured me completely. Swift's Specific.

THE PRIZE WINNER.

Those who gathered in the city hall Monday night to listen to the prize declamations of the contestants in the Demorest Medal contest, enjoyed a real symposium of youthful eloquence. All the contestants were little girls, and all gave very creditable exhibitions of elocutionary art. They were each liberally rewarded with applause. The Haverhill double quartet rendered selections and Mr. James B. Ewart, the well known tenor was heard in two selections. Miss Emily Topham was awarded the medal by the judges, and the decision met with the approval of the audience. Though the smallest of the contestants her voice had more carrying power, and her gestures and dramatic action would have done credit to an elocutionist of maturer years. All the speakers did well; all knew their lines perfectly, and all showed careful training and intelligence. Each contestant was presented with a bottle of perfume. Rev. J. H. Parshley, the presiding officer, introduced the speakers of the evening in his usual felicitous manner. His Honor, Mayor Eaton made a short address, in his usual happy vein.

PROBATE COURT.

Judge McIntyre of Middlesex presided at the session of the probate court in this city Monday.

FOURTH OF JULY COMMITTEES.

The committee on bicycle races held a meeting Tuesday night and voted to recommend the following appropriations for the races on the Fourth: Boys' race, one mile—Prizes $10, $5 and $3.

Three-mile race, open—Prizes $20, $15 and $10.

Three-mile race, local—Prizes $20, $15 and $10.

Ladies' race, one mile—Prizes $10, $5 and $3.

Henry McCusker was elected referee. The committee could not set aside any money, as the committee on sports has already overdrawn its appropriation. The committee wants $175.

CHILDREN'S ENTERTAINMENT. The committee selected to make arrangements for the children's entertainment on the Fourth held a meeting last Tuesday. Alderman Caffrey presided. Councilman Arundel was chosen secretary.

The committee decided to have the entertainment furnished by local people, and $100 was set aside for the event. The committee voted to receive offers from persons desiring to furnish the entertainment. Eleven thousand tickets will be printed and distributed. Another meeting will be held next Tuesday.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL SITE.

City Treasurer Bailey made the last payment Wednesday for land purchased for a site for the new high school building giving $25,000 to the Barbour estate.

The total cost of the land was $37,506.90. Of that sum the McCarthy estate received $12,000, Mary E. Roberts $9,000, Fr. Matthew T. A. B. S. $8,000, Lucy Stiles $7,000, Barbour heirs $25,000. The interest paid amounted to $1359. For sale of the buildings the city received $4852.

S. S. S. GOES TO THE BOTTOM.

Promptly Reaches the Seat of all Blood Diseases and Cures the Worst Cases.

In every test made S. S. S. easily demonstrates its superiority over other blood remedies. It matters not how obstinate the case, nor what other treatment or remedies have failed, S. S. S. always promptly reaches and cures any disease where the blood is in any way involved. Everyone who has had experience with blood diseases knows that there are no all-cure such real, deep-seated blood diseases as S. S. S. cures, and none can offer such incontrovertible evidence of merit. S. S. S. is not merely a tonic—it is a cure! It goes down to the very seat of all blood diseases, and gets at the foundation of the worst cases, and routes the poison from the system. It does not, like other remedies, dry up the poison and hide it from view temporarily, only to break forth again more violently than ever; S. S. S. forces out every trace of taint, and rids the system of it forever.

Mrs. T. W. Lee, Montgomery, Ala., writes: "Some years ago I was inoculated with poison by a nurse who infected my babe with blood taint. I was covered with sores and ulcers from head to foot, and in my great extremity I prayed to die. Several prominent physicians treated me, but all to no purpose. The mercury and potash which they gave me seemed to add fuel to the awful flame which was devouring me. I was advised by friends who had seen wonderful cures made by it, to try Swift's Specific. I improved from the start, as the medicine seemed to go direct to the cause of the trouble and force the poison out. Twenty bottles cured me completely." Swift's Specific.

Razorbills and Muskrats.

Razorbills and muskrats are the chief sources of revenue to the inhabitants of the borders of Fishing Bay, Md. The squatters for a majority of the dwellers are nothing more—no hospitable in their way, but are not advanced in civilization than are the people who have always lived in the out-of-the-way mountains of North Georgia and Alabama. Few of the houses have a habitable appearance, and a majority of them were built from lumber found drifting in the bay and from timber confiscated in the forests, there being immense tracts of valuable timber land along the shores. These people believe they have the right to appropriate whatever timber they may need in the construction of their rude cabins, and it is seldom that the land-owners interfere with them.

Like the razorbill hog and muskrat the people are prolific, and swarms of children may be seen around the cabins in any of the villages. Both men and women are interested in making a living, and the children are taught early to assist in cultivating the gardens and truck patches. The male members of a family generally have all they can do in looking after the muskrat traps and the gardening is left to the care of the women and children. Nearly all use tobacco—chewing, smoking and dipping snuff. When times are hard and money scarce, they use roses from the pine trees as a substitute for tobacco.

The droves of razorbill hogs that are to be seen about all the villages will scarcely take the trouble to get out of one's way. The razorbill is a breed of hogs raised in the South before the war and still abundant in the piney woods of Georgia along the locality where Mark Hanna has his summer home. This hog has an important mission to perform in the Fishing Bay settlements. It is the mission to make way with the hundreds of carcasses of muskrats that accumulate, although the muskrat forms an important article of food for the muskraters and their families. Indeed the flesh of muskrats is no doubt superior to that of the razorbill, the ham of which is almost as dry as the ham of an iron fire-dog. But the people along the shore say that they could not get along without the razorbill. He is their sanitary inspector and scavenger, and as long as he is one of them they do not fear an epidemic of contagious disease.

A few of the muskraters have made money trapping the little animals, but a majority of them just manage to eke out a bare existence. While the muskrat has his house in the ground, the razorbill can only be made through water, and the house is generally built two stories high, the lower floor being flooded with water. The trappers say that the reason for the subterranean existence is that the razorbill is an exit which will not betray him in time of danger. But his instinct does not warn him against the trap his cunning and persistent enemy places in the water at the mouth of the entrance to his home in the bank of the river. This trap is a wooden box about three feet in length and six inches in width. In each end is a wire door, hung on hinges at the top. The slightest push on the outside causes the doors to rise, but they will not open from the inside.

This trap is sunk at the entrance to the muskrat's house, and whether he is going home or on a foraging expedition he is sure to walk into it. A muskrat cannot remain under water indefinitely, and before he has time to gnaw his way out of the box he drowns. An entire family of muskrats is frequently caught in a single net in one trap. During extraordinary tides on the marshes the rats are forced out of their homes and take refuge in the open country, and then it is that the trappers and hunters have no difficulty in locating them. While it is claimed that a muskrat has instinct which foretells rising tides and overflows, they are infrequently caught napping and have to make a hasty exit to high land.

At this season of the year muskrats are very numerous and do an immense amount of damage to the crops. Later on they will have a regular feast on the thing down young corn in the bottom lands. Farmers along the shores are kept busy devising ways of killing off the pests, an regular trappers are regarded as public benefactors throughout that section of Maryland. However, the trappers and razorbills and the farmers are often at war with each other, the razorbills insisting that they have the right to assist the neighbors in harvesting their crops.—N. Y. Sun.

I was reading an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the Worcester Enterprise recently, which leads me to write this. The high school graduating exercises will be held in Nevins Memorial hall next Monday evening.

The Methuen High school cadets have received an invitation from the Lawrence city government to participate in the parade to be held on the Fourth.

Mrs. Samuel G. Sargent, whose daughter, Miss Best, is one of the graduates, will attend the commencement exercises at Mount Holyoke seminary next week.

Miss Clara H. Coburn, daughter of J. Varnum Coburn, formerly superintendent of the town farm has been selected by the school committee as teacher for the Marsh school for this year.

A two horse load of hay belonging to Samuel Tewksbury of Derry, N. H., was overruled in front of Dr. Woodbury's residence on Broadway Saturday afternoon. No damage resulted except from the labor of reloading the hay.

The members of the visiting committee of the Massachusetts Horticultural society, who visited Methuen last week, came at the invitation of Mrs. David Nevins. They were pleasantly entertained during their stay and expressed themselves as highly pleased at the many attractive and beautiful places shown them.

The 10th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Amis was pleasantly observed last Saturday evening at their home on Ashland avenue when a large party of their friends called to congratulate them on the event and to leave a number of tokens of esteem. During the evening there were selections given on the graphophone by George Dixon and there were also vocal selections from other persons present. Ice cream and other refreshments were served and the party broke up at a late hour after having spent a very enjoyable evening. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Foster, Mr. and Mrs. John N. Howler, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. C. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. S. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. B. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. George Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. George Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hill, Messrs. Smith, Strickland and Gouldsbrough, Misses Milner, Smith, Scholes, Dixon and others.

Interesting services in observance of Children's day were held at the Baptist Congregational and Universalist churches Sunday. In each the pastors preached sermons appropriate to the occasion and the little ones took prominent parts in the exercises with recitations and song. The service at the Congregational church was held in lieu of the regular morning service, at the Universalist church at 4 o'clock, and at the Baptist church in the evening at 6.

Special music by the choirs was a feature of the programs. The service at the Universalist Sunday school concert consisted of the exercise, "Barbara's Dream," and was nicely rendered. The different songs, opening carol "Sunday Morning," "Barbara's Prayer," "The Robin's Carol," "Come! Come! Come!" and the closing carol "Gentle Shepherd," were interspersed with recitations by Miss Catherine Johnson, Cora E. Howe, Elva Gordon and Elsie Gaslin and Willie Gaslin. The altar and platform were prettily adorned with a profusion of flowers and potted plants. The other churches were also similarly decorated.

DEATH OF MRS. ROWELL.

The announcement of the death of Mrs. Ingeene Gleason Rowell, widow of Col. William R. Rowell, at her residence on High street, Saturday night, June 15, at her many friends, but few of whom knew of her serious illness. She had been confined to the house a few weeks suffering as was supposed with nervous prostration. Last week a change for the worse came and it was found that her heart as well as other vital organs were affected. A Boston physician, Dr. Chamberlain, was called in consultation with Dr. Woodbury of this town. Saturday but they could give little hope of her recovery, and although everything possible was done that human aid could suggest, the end came about 8 o'clock, the cause of death being attributed to a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Rowell was a native of Methuen, being the daughter of the late Daniel Gleason. She attended the local public schools and later graduated from Dean academy at Franklin. She married Colonel William R. Rowell some 14 or 15 years since.

Mrs. Rowell was a woman of many accomplishments and was surrounded by friends, who will deeply mourn her death. She leaves an aged mother, Mrs. Daniel Gleason, with whom she resided, and one sister, Mrs. Charles H. Tenney, and several cousins in town, all of whom will have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

Funeral services were held at the house Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and interment was in the family lot in Walnut Grove cemetery.

No woman can convince us that she has any work to do in this life. June the second, eighteen hundred and ninety-nine.

Both my wife and myself have been using CASCARETS and they are the best medicine we have ever had in the house. Last week my wife was frantic with headache for two days, she tried some of your CASCARETS, and they relieved the pain in her head almost immediately. We both recommend CASCARETS immediately.

Young men anxious for army life will have an opportunity of gratifying their desire if they can pass the examination.

Sergt. Andrew Bessom of Lynn is in a serious condition and it is feared that he will have to be placed in confinement. He was terribly shocked by a live electric light wire a short time ago.

Capt. John Campbell of Gloucester has filed a complaint against Martin J. Carter, U. S. consul of St. John, N. F. Capt. Campbell alleges that the consul meanly repaid the villagers who took care of a shipwrecked crew.

END OF CONVENTION.

HAVERHILL, June 12.—The 34th annual convention of the New England Christian missionary society ended today after a three day session.

R. E. Jope, South Gardner, Me., led the sunrise prayer meeting which was largely attended. The verbal reports, led by S. M. Hunt, Springfield, were heard from delegates of 25 churches connected with the society which showed them in a flourishing condition.

Rev. J. H. Mohrter, Boston delivered the sermon at the morning worship. This afternoon the praise service was led by Wilmer Monro, Bridgeport, Ct., and the address was given by E. J. Teagarden, Danbury, Conn.

The communion service was conducted by Dr. W. A. Belding, Troy, N. Y. William Allen, Lexington, Ky., had charge of the Christian Endeavor meeting this evening and at the farewell service of the convention C. C. Smith, Cincinnati, gave an address, the service being led by R. A. Nichols, Worcester.

The officers elected at the convention are: Roland A. Nichols, Worcester, president; E. J. Teagarden, Danbury, and E. C. Davis, Springfield, vice president; S. M. Hunt, Springfield, corresponding secretary; T. G. Picton, East Machias, Me., recording secretary; J. H. Mohrter, Boston, treasurer; A. S. D. Buxton, Worcester, auditor.

WANTS HER DAUGHTER.

LYNN, June 14.—Margaret Ambrose, yesterday divorced from her husband at Salem, requested the police here to assist her in recovering possession of her 5-year-old daughter, which she said had been kidnapped in Brockton five weeks ago.

The woman is now a resident of this city, but for several months past has lived at Brockton with her child. She says that while the child was playing on the street in that city she was spirited away, and that she traced the little one and kidnappers as far as this city, and then lost trace of them.

Mrs. Ambrose secured a divorce from her husband, Timothy, yesterday on the grounds of cruelty and abusive treatment, and was granted custody of the child. The woman says she has been unable to find it. She believes it is secreted in Swampscott or Salem, and to the latter places the police referred her.

TIMBERLAND BURNED.

NEWBURYPORT, June 12.—A destructive fire at Smithtown, N. H., yesterday noon burned over 16 acres of woodland. Six hundred cords of wood were destroyed.

There being no fire department in the town the neighbors turned out in large numbers and fought the flames for hours. The ground about the woods was plowed up and trees felled to prevent the fire spreading.

The property destroyed was owned by Edward Janvin.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

Cures Every Form of Inflammation;

INTERNAL, as much as EXTERNAL.

Original formula of old family physician. It acts promptly. It is always ready for use. Dropped on sugar suffering children love it. Every mother should have it in the house. For colds, croup, whooping cough, and summer complaints, pain in the stomach, bowels or kidneys. For rheumatism, sun burn, sprains or strains. It is the sovereign cure. All who use it are assured of its marvelous power and are loud in its praises forever after.

For more than forty years I have used Johnson's Anodyne Liniment in my family. I regard it as one of the best and safest family medicines. To be used internal and external in all cases.

O. H. INGALLS, Dec. 2d Bapt. Ch., Bangor, Me.

CROUP. My children are subject to croup. All that is necessary is to give them one dose, before the chest and throat with your liniment, tickle them in the throat with a feather, and it is cured.

A. A. FERRIS, Rockport, Texas.

Miscellany

Canada has a forest area estimated at 1,250,000 square miles, or 800,000,000 acres, the largest forest area so far as the woods of commerce are concerned, of any country of the world. Its forest production is $25,000,000 annually.

A reasonably active man walks about 297,200 miles—more than 10 times the earth's circumference—in 84 years, just trotting about his house and office.

The ancient Egyptians used saws. In a private tomb at Thebes one was discovered with several other carpenter's tools. The blade is of brass, a little over 10 inches long and 1 1/4 inches wide. The highest point to which man can ascend without his health being very seriously affected is 16,500 feet.

Georgia has a woman mail carrier; she travels a 49-mile route triweekly. This young woman also manages a farm.

The first silk hat was worn in the streets of London by John Hetherington, haberdasher on Jan. 5, 1797. He was arrested for inciting a riot but was dismissed with a reprimand.

The recent edict of the king of Siam that no naked children shall hereafter be allowed in the streets of Bangkok under penalty of a fine is proving a hardship to parents as the children unaccustomed to any raiment cast off what is put on them as soon as they are out of sight of the parents.

Three New York thieves stole a valuable greyhound and later the owner came upon them and the dog. He attempted to rescue his property but was faring badly until the dog himself took a hand and attacked the robbers with such good effect that when a policeman came up the three were glad to be taken into custody.
